

BAKING PAPER

OVERVIEW

Baking paper or also known as parchment paper is a virgin bleached pulp based high density paper, coated on both sides with silicone. With high chemical purity, excellent release properties and safe food contact grade, baking paper becomes an on-going necessity for baking and cooking.

PRODUCT DETAILS

Grammature: 33~45gsm

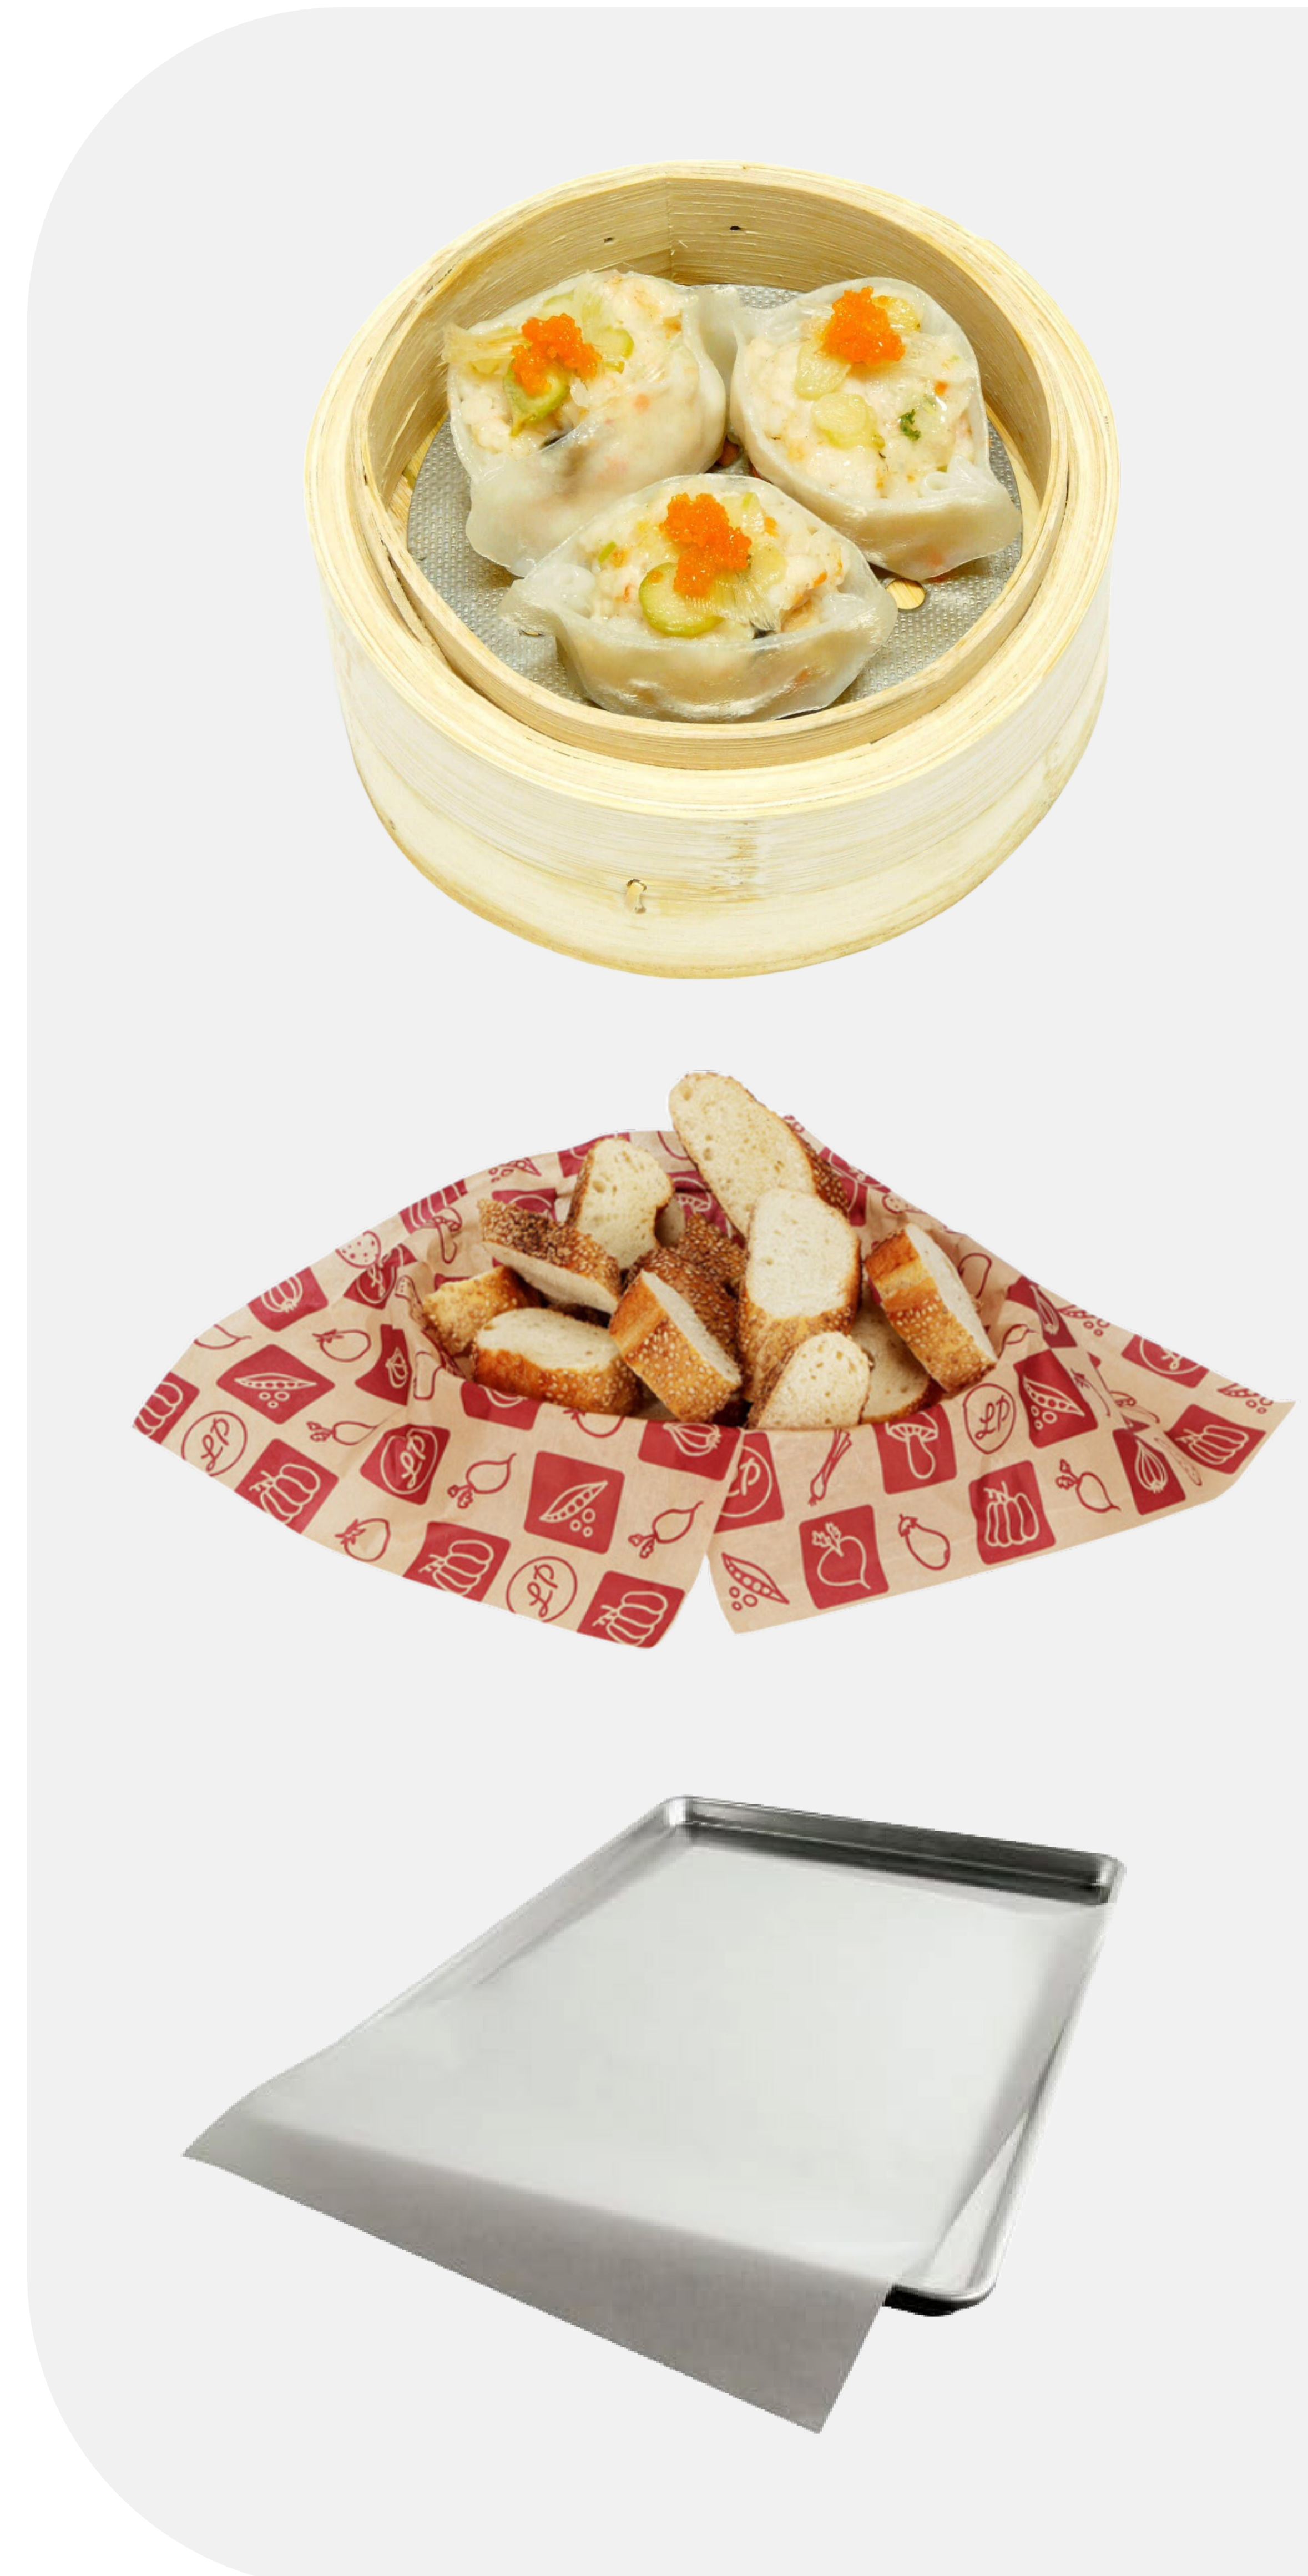

Certifications: Food Grade (FDA, ISO9001)

FEATURES & BENEFITS

- High grease barrier (Nonstick)
- Easy to lift baked items from pan
- High temperature resistant (up to 220 degrees Celsius)
- Excellent heat stability
- Hygienic protection during cooking and baking
- Maintain food flavor and quality
- Can be used up to 4x (depending on baking types)

RECOMMENDED APPLICATIONS

- Dimsum
- Baking cookies, cake, pastries, pizza, breads
- Food wrapping
- Heating for sandwich and burger

ABOUT FORTOAK

Fortoak is a leading supplier of till rolls, labels, PPE, packaging and speciality raw materials.

With over 40 years in the industry, our company is proud of its reputation for highest quality products and professional service. As a leading till roll, label and packaging company in the UK and Ireland, our expert team is here to meet your specific business needs.

We service your business quickly and cost effectively from anywhere in the UK. With offices based in London, Loughborough, Birmingham, and our office in Athens, Greece which serves our European business, we guarantee reliable delivery, every time with secure, centrally located warehousing.

